PROJECTS

Title: Employee Retention Strategies in Startup Ventures in the Current Indian Scenario

Duration: Academic Year 2024–2025

Objective:

To explore the effectiveness of various employee retention strategies adopted by Indian startups and identify key factors influencing employee satisfaction and long-term commitment.

Description:

This project focused on examining the various employee retention strategies implemented by startup companies in India. The study aimed to understand how factors such as compensation, career development opportunities, work-life balance, organizational culture, and employee engagement impact retention levels. A structured survey was conducted among 123 employees from diverse sectors using a convenience sampling technique. The data was analyzed using simple percentage analysis to identify trends and draw meaningful insights.
